Biography

I began my legal career in 2012, studying the music industry's legal aspects. I then started as a paralegal at a law firm and earned my Master of Law in 2019, moving on to associate, focusing on music and fashion, and also gaining procedural experience from a high-profile music industry case. I moved on to in-house counsel at a company with Abion as out-house representatives, ending up at Abion in 2022. In my free time, I spend time with my horse, gardening at our coastal home, and traveling with my husband to Sápmi, Pasifika, Scotland, or anywhere in between.
